Business MC with a human soundtrack

There are thousands of MCs (Masters of Ceremonies), business moderators and presenters. They can talk, they can joke, they look great, they are smart. But have you heard of any MC using his or her very own soundtrack?

Modbox presenters have a human soundtrack consisting of two world-class sound imitators and human beatbox artists. They make the MC's performance much more than announcements: By adding jingles, beats and all kinds of sounds and noises to the presentation, the audience stays focused, entertained and relaxed at the same time.

If requested the trio can add customized raps, jingles and special performances on top of preparing the stage for the main speakers.
